

Manufacturing Day to Halloween

Manufacturing Week is a celebration by the Census Bureau that highlights the manufacturing sector's importance and vast economic contribution to the nation. To celebrate, we are providing a week's worth of rich content & statistics that inform businesses and policymakers. Visit census.gov/mfgday to learn more.

And at the end of October, we celebrate Halloween!

Here are some sweet Economic statistics about the nation in 2020:

 There were 264 establishments that primarily produced products from cocoa beans

 There were 3,320 confectionery and nut stores

Visit our Facts for Features page on census.gov for more fun facts about Halloween.